Pop culture costumes are bound to be big this year

One of the best ways to get in on the Halloween costume fun is to choose a look that borrows from popular culture. This year there is no shortage of inspiration for those who want to look like their favorite movie, television and game characters.

Comic book hero "frenemies": Marvel's popular characters joined forces in "Deadpool & Wolverine" this year with the titular stars played by Ryan Reynolds and Hugh Jackman, respectively. Whether you're team red or team yellow, dressing up as one of these action characters is certainly going to be popular for Halloween 2024.

Whirlwind romance: Fans of the "Bridgerton" television series know that the third season follows the romance between Penelope Featherington and Colin Bridgerton. This is a perfect couples' costume, and one that will be lavish at any Halloween gathering.

Travis and Taylor: The last year-plus has been notable for both football fans and Swifties. Three-time Super Bowl champion Travis Kelce and pop superstar Taylor Swift became the power couple of record, earning fans from both sides of the football/music aisle. Dressing up as this duo is sure to get rave reviews.

Country vibes: Beyonce ushered in a new era of country music in 2024 with the release of her album "Cowboy Carter." Emulating the pop-to-country princess is a great way to turn heads this Halloween.

The "Juice is loose": It's been 36 years since audiences enjoyed the hijinks of Beetlejuice, the star character of Tim Burton's horror-comedy. With the release of "Beetlejuice, Beetlejuice," complete with most of the original actors reprising their roles, there's no question that Beetlejuice, Lydia and Delia costumes will be trending this October.

Political opponents: The race to the White House this year certainly has had its twists and turns. Political figures often are in fashion for Halloween costumes, and this year that is bound to be the case with individuals dressing up as the Republic and Democratic presidential candidates.

Another pink lady: While "Barbie" was the chic lady in pink for 2023, thanks to the announcement of the new prequel series dubbed "Elle," Elle Woods from the "Legally Blonde" franchise is sure to be trending this Halloween.

Wacky Wednesday: Now that another series installment is in the works, there will be plenty of people dressed up as Wednesday Addams this Halloween.

Looking to pop culture yields plenty of inspiration for Halloween costumes each year.

I could not believe it today, when I came home and was told by my wife that my 5 year old son wasn't actually mine...

She says that I need to pay more attention when picking him up from school.

COMMUNITY BOARD SUBMISSIONS FOR THE BOOK

To have your free community event or an event where the proceeds go to support a local not for profit mentioned on the Community Board there is no cost. All submissions need to be received no later than the 18th of the month to ensure they will be published in the following edition. We do have to keep the mention to a 4-6 line maximum (approx-imately 90 words) to ensure we have room to list everyone's events. If your event is to support your private business, then please see page 4 for our advertising rates.

Send us your events via email at office@peddlers-post.com

Impress guests with this flavorful appetizer

Appetizers can make a strong first impression when eating at a restaurant. Indeed, a flavorful appetizer can give diners a taste of what's to come throughout the rest of the meal, creating a sense of anticipation that will linger all the way to the last bite.

Appetizers may be most associated with restaurants, but holiday hosts can go the extra mile and prepare some flavorful apps at home as well. As hosts prepare to welcome loved ones into their home this holiday season, they can treat guests with these "Stuffed Mushrooms" courtesy of Lines+Angles.

Stuffed Mushrooms ((Makes 28 servings))

- Olive oil, to coat baking sheet
- 28 mushrooms (2 1/2 inches in diameter), stemmed
- 1/2 cup butter (1 stick)
- 1 small onion, minced
- 2 cloves of garlic, peeled and minced
- 3/4 cup Italian breadcrumbs
- 1/2 cup Romano cheese, grated
- 3 tablespoons fresh Italian parsley, chopped
- Salt, to taste
- Freshly ground black pepper, to taste

1. Preheat oven to 350 F. Drizzle olive oil on baking sheet and coat thoroughly.
2. Gently clean the mushrooms and remove stems. Finely chop stems. Melt butter in a skillet over medium heat. Add stems, onion and garlic, and saute' until stems and onions are soft and garlic is fragrant.
3. In a mixing bowl, add bread crumbs, cheese and parsley. Season with salt and pepper and stir to combine. Add sauted mixture to bread crumb mixture and mix well.
4. Spoon filling mixture into mushroom caps. Arrange on prepared baking sheet, stuffed side up. Bake about 20 to 25 minutes, or until the mushrooms are tender and the tops are golden. Cool for several minutes before serving. Arrange on serving tray or platter. Serve. Preparation time: 15 minutes ~ Cooking time: 35 minutes ~ Total time: 50 minutes ~ Difficulty: Easy

Games add another layer of levity to holiday celebrations

The holidays bring together friends, neighbors and family members to celebrate some of the most festive days of the year. Although celebrants of ten incorporate traditions they hold dear this time of year, downtime provides an opportunity to embrace new games and entertainment ideas as well. The following are some fun games to play this holiday season that can help to break the ice and keep everyone laughing.

Reindeer Games: Everyone knows that Rudolph wanted to have fun and participate in "reindeer games," but he was left on the sidelines. Inspired by the tune, everyone can participate in reindeer games at your home. These types of games can include tests of endurance and dexterity, like fruitcake-eating contests, running races or doing hurdle competitions in the yard.

Candy Cane Home Runs: Participants can see how well they can launch a marshmallow into the outfield by hitting it with a candy cane taking the place of the baseball bat. Each participant gets three swings. The person with the most home runs wins.

Guess the Gift: In this game, party hosts wrap up five oddly shaped gifts specifically for the game (the gifts may be oddly shaped or just the wrapping as a decoy). Players take turns trying to guess what is inside and mark down their answers on sheets. One by one the gifts are revealed. If anyone guesses the gift, it is given as a prize. If more than one person guesses a gift, come up with a fun way to break the tie, such as rock, paper, scissors or thumb wrestling.

Christmas Karaoke: Singing traditional carols and popular holiday tunes is not uncommon come December. In this competitive version of karaoke, singers have to keep on singing, even when the lyrics get turned off or covered to test their true knowledge of these songs.

Present Stackers: This requires keeping a collection of oddly shaped gifts at the ready. Game participants try to stack the presents as tall as they can without them toppling over.

Fishing for Fun: Hang strings on the straight ends of candy canes to fashion fishing poles, with the curved ends serving as the "hooks." Participants try to "fish" smaller candy canes out of a bowl and see how many they can reel in.

The "No L" Game: The game referee has a list of a few categories (i.e., food, sports, colors, cars, etc.) and players are split into a few teams. When the category is called, the teams have to jot down as many words as they can pertaining to the category that do not have a letter "L" in them before a timer runs out.

These are just a few festive ways to have fun with friends or family members during holiday gatherings.

National Indigenous Peoples Day

According to the United States Census Bureau, the five largest American Indian reservations in 2020 were each west of the Mississippi River. The Navajo Nation Reservation and Off-Reservation Trust Land, which includes land in Arizona, New Mexico and Utah, is home to more than 4 percent of the American Indian/Alaska Native alone population in 2020, making the area home to nearly 10 times more individuals who identify as American Indian alone or Alaska Native alone than the second largest reservation in size. In fact, the USCB reports that almost 90 percent of the American Indian/Alaska Natives population on the Navajo Nation Reservation and Off-Reservation Trust Land identified exclusively as Navajo Nation.

Did you know?

Domestic violence is a growing concern in some areas of North America. According to Statistics Canada, in 2021 there were 127,082 victims of police-reported family violence (violence committed by a spouse, parent, child, sibling, or extended family member), a rate of 336 victims per 100,000 population. Data indicates this was the fifth consecutive year that domestic violence incidents rose in Canada. In addition, 114,132 individuals age 12 years and older were victims of intimate partner violence (violence committed by a current and former legally married spouse, common-law partner, dating partner, or other intimate partner). The National Domestic Violence Hotline indicates an average of 24 people per minute are victims of rape, physical violence or stalking by an intimate partner in the United States. That adds up to more than 12 million male and female victims in a single year. One in four women and one in seven men age 18 and older in the United States have been victims of domestic abuse in their lifetimes.

Be your best brunch host this holiday season

Much is made about the main course during a holiday meal, and for good reason. Food features prominently during the holiday season, and many a lasting memory is made around the family dinner table each December.

Though it's impossible to exaggerate the importance of the main course during a holiday celebration with family and friends, savvy hosts, especially those welcoming overnight guests into their homes, recognize that a sit-down dinner isn't the only opportunity to show off their culinary skills. When hosting overnight guests, a relaxing homemade brunch can make for the perfect way for hosts and their guests to ease into a day. Hosts looking to plan a simple, flavorful holiday brunch can utilize this recipe for "Mushroom Sausage Frittata" courtesy of Lines+Angles.

Mushroom Sausage Frittata

Makes 4 to 6 servings

- 1 tablespoon good-quality olive oil
- 2 cups chopped smoked sausage
- 2 cups sliced mushrooms
- 2 cloves of garlic, peeled and minced
- 8 fresh eggs
- 3 1/2 tablespoons heavy cream
- 1 teaspoon fresh ground black pepper
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup cheddar cheese, grated

- 1. Preheat oven broiler.
- 2. Heat the oil in a 10-inch nonstick, ovenproof skillet. Add sausage and saute until it begins to brown, about 3 minutes. Add mushrooms and saute until golden, about 3 additional minutes. Stir in garlic and cook until fragrant, about 30 seconds.
- 3. Combine the eggs, heavy cream, salt, and pepper in a blender; process until frothy. Pour the egg mixture into the skillet with the sausage mixture and cook, undisturbed, until the sides and bottom are set but center is loose, about 4 minutes.
- 4. Sprinkle cheese over the top and place skillet under broiler and cook until mixture is just set on top and cooked through, about 3 to 4 minutes. Cool 2 minutes, slice and serve.

I may be a little grayer and shorter than i used to be and I need glasses to read anything smaller than a stop sign, but the good news is...Damn, I have no idea what I was going to say.

Protect pets both inside and outside the home

Newly adopted pets waste little time becoming beloved members of a household. But much like young children, pets are a significant responsibility, and they rely on their human caretakers to ensure their safety.

Pets are susceptible to illness and injury just like their human companions. The Pet Poison Hotline reported a 51 percent increase in the volume of calls between 2020 and 2021. Banfield Pet Hospitals also saw about half a million more pet visits in 2020 than in 2019. Furthermore, Dogster reports that 47 percent of pet owners had to deal with a serious medical issue or took their pets to emergency care in 2021.

Keeping cherished pets safe in and around a home is no small task. But with some diligence, it is possible to ensure health and happiness for companion animals. Follow these tips, courtesy of the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission, Old Farm Veterinary Hospital and Security.org.

- ~ Consider an indoor and outdoor security camera system. Having eyes on pets while you're away from home enables a quick response should something happen.
- ~ Avoid leaving pet food outdoors overnight. Dog and cat foods can attract other animals, such as bears, raccoons, foxes, and opossums, depending on where you live. Wild animals grow accustomed to receiving easy meals and this could decrease their trepidation about being around a home or yard. Run-ins between your pets and wild animals should be avoided at all costs.
- ~ Skip the retractable leash. Walking a pet on a non-retractable leash allows better control of the pet in the event of an encounter with a person or another animal.
- ~ Be cautious with chemicals. Carefully consider any chemicals you use in your yard, including pesticides and weed killers, as well as any cleaning products used indoors. Pets can ingest or inhale these products and get sick.
- ~ Pick up potential choking hazards. String, small pieces of toys, rawhide bone fragments, and other items can be choking hazards to pets. Be diligent about removing these items from the floor so that pets will not swallow them.
- ~ Tap on your car hood. Families who allow their cats outdoor access should thump on the car hood when it is cold outside, as sometimes cats take shelter near a warm engine block. Cats can become injured if you start the car while they are under the hood.
- ~ Stay up-to-date on vaccinations. Whether pets never step outdoors or have free rein, always vaccinate companion animals against common parasites and other pests.
- ~ Microchip your pets. Microchips not only protect pets should they get lost, but they also can help track down animals that may have been stolen. Remember to keep microchip data current to ensure a swift recovery.
- ~ Keep foods and medicines out of reach. Many human foods can be toxic to pets, as can medications that are kept in a home. Pets can be curious and easy access to these items may make them quite ill.

Pets need their owners to take key steps to safeguard their well-being.
